Why Go Initiative?

We aim to cultivate a generation of resilient, healthy, and community-oriented individuals and grow their passion and skills for outdoor adventures.

We believe outdoor experiences enrich children's lives by fostering a deep connection with nature, promoting physical health, sparking curiosity, and encouraging creativity. These experiences cultivate a sense of wonder and exploration, instill environmental stewardship, manage stress, and provide opportunities for social interaction and emotional development, laying a foundation for holistic growth and lifelong appreciation of the natural world.
